ITALIAN EARTHQUAKE WAS GREAT DISASTER

OPPOSITION TO ARMY MEASURE

House Members Block Acceptance of Conference Committee Report.

NAVAL BILL COMPLETE

Agricultural Appropriation Measure Carrying Rider Repealing Daylight Saving Oct. 26, and Wire Bill Sent to White House.

Washington, July 1.—Congress failed in its aim to enact the remaining appropriation bills before adjournment and to recess until Monday.

Unexpected house opposition to the conference agreement on the $766,000,000 army appropriation bill and obstruction by house democrats to other measures forced adjournment of both the senate and house after the senate had listened most of the day to debate of the league of nations.

With all the appropriation measures needed July 1 to provide funds for many government agencies beginning the new fiscal year, leaders hope to clear up all of the bills and then adjourn until July 7, when President Wilson is expected to arrive with the peace treaty.

Navy Bill Alone Completed.

Of the five money bills left over, the naval appropriation measure carrying $616,000,000 and providing a naval personnel of 170,000, was the only one completed. Conference agreements were reached on all others, including reduction of the sundry civil bill from $775,000,000 to $605,000,000.

The house worked on conference reports, with several hours of spirited debate on the army measure which was returned to conference with its representatives instructed to insist that the appropriation for the air service be limited to $15,000,000. The house conferees previously had agreed to compromise the senate's $65,000,000 appropriation for that purpose at $40,000,000.

Two important bills, the $26,000,000 agricultural appropriation measure, carrying the rider repealing the daylight saving law Oct. 26, and that ending government control of wires, expected to be effective July 31, were sent to the White House.

GERRY DEFENDS COVENANT

Rhode Island Senator Believes in League of Nations.

Washington, July 1.—The league of nations was attacked in the senate by Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, as a proposal to scrap the American Constitution, and was defended by Senator Gerry, Democrat, Rhode Island, as a necessity to protect American rights.

Mr. Fall, a member of the foreign relations committee, described the treaty with Germany as "not a treaty of peace but a treaty of alliance," and asserted he could not vote to ratify it without violating his oath of office.

Mr. Gerry, who recently returned from a tour of European countries, said the treaty represented the appeal of the millions of Europe for American co-operation in bringing a new day of peace.

18 YANKS KILLED IN BATTLE

Suffer Casualties in Fight With Anti-Kolchak Forces.

Washington, July 1.—Eighteen American soldiers were killed, one officer and eight men severely wounded and 16 slightly wounded in an engagement with anti-Kolchak forces near Romanovka, June 25. Major General W. S. Graves, commanding the American expedition in Siberia, informed the war department that the engagement followed an attack by the bolsheviks on railroad guards.

AGREE ON BIG REDUCTIONS

Conferees Slash Schedules in Sundry Civil Bill.

Washington, July 1.—Reductions of appropriations aggregating $200,000,000 were made in the sundry civil bill by senate and house conferees. The principal cut was in the shipping board's construction fund, which was fixed at $356,000,000, as compared with $491,000,000 proposed by the senate and $276,000,000 by the house.

BIDS OPENED AT CHICAGO

Army Has Large Stock of Canned Goods for Sale.

Chicago, July 1.—Bids for the sale of 15,864,452 cans of vegetables bought for the army were opened by the government quartermaster department here. This amount includes 6,213,283 cans of peas, 7,615,232 of corn, 1,015,932 of string beans and 20,000 of baked beans.

VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG

Asks Allies to Try Him in Place of Former Kaiser.

Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, former German chancellor, has formally asked the Allied and associated powers to place him on trial instead of the former emperor. The former chancellor says that he assumed responsibility for the acts of Germany during his period of office and places himself at the disposal of the Allies.

EIGHT MINERS KILLED

Explosion Occurs in Coal Pit Near McAlester, Okla.

Workers Are Making Strenuous Efforts to Save Seventeen Men Imprisoned in Shaft.

McAlester, Okla., July 1.—Bodies of eight miners who lost their lives in an explosion in the Rock Island Coal company's mine near here had been brought to the surface.

Seventeen other miners are imprisoned in the shaft and workers are still busy attempting to rescue them. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

None of the bodies recovered away from the source of the explosion is charred. Suffocation is said to be the cause of death in each case.

Seventy-five men escaped from the mine through the air shaft of lower working No. 3 within a few minutes after the explosion. More than 50 have been carried out over the fire that raged for a time in the shaft.

WILSON MAY LAND MONDAY

President is Bringing Home Copies of Peace Treaty.

On board the U. S. George Washington, July 1.—President Wilson is 357 miles out. The George Washington was running 16 knots an hour, which indicates her arrival in port about Monday noon.

It is expected that the Presidential party will proceed direct to Washington without stopping at New York, and that the President's first official utterances in America is likely to be when he in person will present before congress a detailed statement of the proceedings of the peace conference. He carries with him copies of the treaty.

President and Mrs. Wilson are enjoying the balmy air and sunny breeze of an ideal passage. They are spending much time on the upper deck.

STATE BECOMES BONE DRY

Last Minnesota Legislature Enacted Stringent Law.

St. Paul, July 1.—By enactment of the 1919 state legislature, Minnesota became "bone dry." It is believed to be the only state of the Union that is dry today.

Whatever action may be taken by A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general of the United States, pending a definition of intoxicating liquor by the United States supreme court, Minnesota is dry by the provisions of the so-called dry enforcement act, enacted into law by the last legislature, according to C. Louis Weeks, deputy attorney general of Minnesota.

The Minnesota law defines "intoxicating" liquor as any liquid or liquor that contains "one-half of one per cent or more of alcohol by volume."

Yellow Fever Suppressed.

San Salvador, July 1.—Strict sanitary regulations at La Union and San Miguel apparently have checked an outbreak of yellow fever. Only four cases are reported now in San Miguel and these are isolated.

SALOONS OPEN AND DOING BUSINESS IN PARTS OF COUNTRY

(By United Press)

Washington, July 1.—Dealers who continue to sell beer are in danger of arrest and prosecution. Attorney General Palmer declared today. "My contention is that beer containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol is intoxicating," said Palmer. "This has been the ruling of the internal revenue bureau for years, and we are presuming that is what is meant in the war time prohibition act as passed by congress." Palmer added, however, that it is not the intention to order wholesale arrests at once.

Reports from many parts of the country today showed that saloons were open and doing business as usual with 2.7 per cent beer, and even stronger drinks. Chicago, Baltimore, New York and other cities reported regular business. In Minnesota an enforcement act passed by the state legislature made the state bone dry today.

2.75 Per Cent Beer Wins First Round

(By United Press)

Baltimore, July 1.—Judge John Rose, of the U. S. district court, today sustained the demurrer of the Standard Brewing Co., to the indictment by the government in the manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer. The decision may mean the continuation of the sale of such beer.

May Reduce Food Prices.

Berlin, July 1.—Under an agreement with the railroad strikers the government proposes a reduction in the price of foreign goods, especially food, totalling $350,000,000, to be distributed and charged to the empire in free states and communities.

Prince Enters Monastery.

Munich, July 1.—Prince George, eldest son of Prince Louis of Bavaria, has entered a Jesuit monastery at Innsbruck, according to newspapers here.

French Statesmen See Races.

Paris, July 1.—The Grand Prix de Paris was run at Longchamps for the first time since the war and was won by Gallopier Light. Premier Clemenceau and President Poincare saw the race.

Montenegrin Government Protests.

Paris, July 1.—The Montenegrin government has sent a note to the Allied powers protesting against the peace conference's refusal to allow Montenegrin representation in the peace negotiations with Germany.

(By United Press)

Rome, July 1.—The earthquake which shook Northern Italy yesterday continued early today. Scores of persons were dead and hundreds injured. With the resumption of communications it was expected the casualty list would increase. A number of villages were razed and at least twenty were partially in ruins. Viechie was almost wiped out. Miralond was razed and a portion of the population buried under the ruins. At Olmi scores of houses were destroyed and many killed. Destruction was great at Rabatta and Cassaglia. Florence, where the quake was first felt, was among the cities reporting casualties. The shock was felt throughout Romania, where 1,000 are homeless. Two thousand are homeless at Santa Sofia. The quake was also felt in Tuscany. Communications were wiped out.

Rear End Collision Results in Heavy Loss of Life

(By United Press)

Dunkirk, N. Y.—Eight persons were killed and fifteen injured early today in a rear end collision of two New York Central passenger trains at Dunkirk. Some of the injured may die. Both trains left New York yesterday bound for Chicago. The first was delayed by a hot box. A flagman tried to stop the second, and hurled his lantern at the cab. Apparently the brakes would not hold and the train plowed through the rear coach of the standing train. The boiler of the locomotive exploded.

Washington, July 1.—Closing of the angle-cock in the airbrake between the locomotive and the first car of the New York Central passenger train made the brake fail and caused the crash at Dunkirk early today in which ten were reported killed, the railroad administration was advised. Finding the body of a tramp between the locomotive and the car caused officials to believe the man accidentally turned the angle-cock, shutting off air from all the cars.

BARON VON BATOCKI

Provisional President of East Prussia Steps Out.

Herr Winnik, national commissioner for Eastern Germany, has been appointed provisional president of East Prussia to take the place of Baron Adolph T. von Batocki, former food dictator.

BIG MEN BACK LEAGUE

Senator Borah Takes Fling at Financial Interests.

Declares New York Newspaper Has Been Purchased to Create Favorable Sentiment.

Washington, July 1.—In the senate, Senator Borah of Idaho charged that Thomas W. Lamont, representing the Morgan interests, had purchased the New York Evening Post for the purpose of using it in connection with propaganda in favor of the league of nations.

Senator Borah declared that before the debate on the league closed he would show that big financial interests were in connivance to exploit the natural resources of Europe and have the United States underwrite the investment.

"The mask of hypocrisy will be torn off," he said, "and even the sacred name of a former ex-president cannot be used to protect the men who propose to sell out this country."

The Idaho senator read from a publication of the League to Enforce Peace that three-fourths of the contributions to that organization came from business men and said that while the name of Kuhn, Loeb and company was not among the concerns mentioned he had evidence that it should be there.

STORM SWEEPS TWO STATES

Heavy Damage Reported in Montana and North Dakota.

Minot, N. D., July 1.—A windstorm which bordered on tornado swept northeastern Montana and northwestern North Dakota, killing several, injuring many others and causing great damage to many buildings in the towns and rural sections.

Wires are all down west of Minot, hence only meager details are available tonight. Miles of telephone and telegraph wires are down from Stanley, Mont., to Williston, N. D.

According to trainmen who passed through the storm-swept area and arrived in Minot, considerable damage was done to towns in eastern Montana. At Williston windows and fronts of stores were blown out and several barns blown down.

TESTIFIES AT FORD TRIAL

Author of "Anarchist" Editorial Explains His Position.

Mt. Clemens, July 1.—Practically all of the day's session in the Ford trial was taken up with examination of Clifford S. Raymond, who wrote the editorial June 23, 1916, headed "Ford Is an Anarchist," on which the Detroit manufacturer based his $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Tribune.

The witness said that about 1914, the Chicago Tribune became convinced that only armed intervention in Mexico would bring anarchy to its end south of the Rio Grande.

San Francisco, July 1.—The board of supervisors has adopted resolution officially inviting Eamonn De Valera, the Irish leader, to visit San Francisco during his stay in the United States.

COURT REMOVES GEORGE J. GOULD

New York Judge Acts in Case of Complaint Against Executor of Estate.

APPEAL MAY BE TAKEN

Frank Jay Gould Charged That George's Alleged Mismanagement of Father's Estate Resulted in Loss of $25,000,000.

New York, July 1.—George J. Gould was removed by Supreme Court Justice Whitaker as executor and trustee of the estate of the late Jay Gould, his father. The court based its action upon the motion made by Frank Jay Gould, a brother of George.

Justice Whitaker reviewed the numerous allegations of wrongful acts and wrongful attitudes charged against the "oldest of the sons of the late railroad magnate" in Frank Gould's motion, but, declaring it impossible to unravel "this apparent legerdemain of finance" with the aid only of affidavits, he based his decision on three of the allegations which he said had been "admitted and undisputedly proved."

George Gould's attitude in admitting these three acts, which he denied were "unjust or wrongful," was in itself sufficient grounds for his removal, the court declared, as it proved that he was "either entirely ignorant or boldly defiant of the principles governing the administration of a trust estate."

Justice Whitaker took occasion in his decision specifically to absolve from connection with the alleged wrongful acts, George Gould's sister and co-trustee, Mrs. Helen Gould Shepard, who appeared in the case in the role of "neutral." The other co-trustees were Edwin and Howard Gould.

Frank charged in his motion that George's alleged mismanagement of the estate had resulted in a loss of approximately $25,000,000 and that the heirs had not derived from the trust created for their benefit the full amount which they should have received.

The respondent's recourse is to the appellate division of the supreme court, and it was expected that he would at once file an appeal there, in an effort to continue in partial control of the Gould fortune, estimated originally at more than $80,000,000.

JAP ENVOYS ISSUE DENIAL

Scoff at Story of Secret Alliance With Germany.

Paris, July 1.—The Japanese peace delegation has issued a categorical denial of a statement appearing in a newspaper printed in English in Paris to the effect that Japan and Germany had arranged a secret alliance, aimed eventually to include Russia, and that only the overthrow of the Hohenzollerns and the arrival of the armistice prevented its signature. The delegation says the story was of German origin, revamped for the moment of the signing of peace to discredit Japan and poison the public mind against her.

APPEARS BEFORE CHAMBER

French Premier Presents Peace Treaty to Deputies.

Paris, July 1.—In presenting the text of the peace treaty to the Chamber of Deputies, Premier Clemenceau made a brief speech in which he recalled the French national assembly which met at Bordeaux in 1871 and added:

"We make peace as we made war, without weakness. Internal peace is a necessity for external peace."

GIVEN ROUSING RECEPTION

Premier Lloyd George Visits House of Commons.

London, July 1.—Premier Lloyd George received a rousing ovation when he appeared in the house of commons. The premier had been cheered by crowds on his way from Downing street to the house, but the reception from his fellow members in the house eclipsed the cheers he had received elsewhere since his return from Paris.

HOLLAND RECEIVES WARNING

Nation Goes Dry and Long Fight for U. S. Prohibition Comes to End.

LIQUOR MEN WARNED

Officials Threaten Prosecution of All Those Who Defy Act—Laws Held Adequate to Enforce Dry Mandate.

Washington, July 1.—A bill designed to "stop the gap" between wartime and constitutional prohibition was introduced by Representative Charles H. Randall of California. The bill would make prohibition continuous, beginning at once, and would hold in the bonded warehouses all distilled liquors now there.

Washington, July 1.—For many years the greatest consumer of intoxicating liquor, Uncle Sam, has taken his seat on the world's water wagon.

Nationwide prohibition—the dream of reformers for a century—became a reality at midnight, when the wartime prohibition act, passed during the struggle with Germany to conserve food, went into effect, despite the appeal of President Wilson that congress repeal it as it affects beer and light wines. Under the act all manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors are crimes against the United States.

Whether Uncle Sam will desert the well known water wagon, for a brief spree before constitutional prohibition replaces the wartime act next January, depends on President Wilson. The president has declared his intention to lift the ban when demobilization is ended.

Continuous Prohibition Sought. Continuous nationwide prohibition was announced as the aim of the "ultra" prohibitionists in congress.

Resenting President Wilson's efforts to have the wartime prohibition act repealed as soon as is legally possible, the drys are planning to push through congress legislation that will prevent a wet period of a few months between the time the president declares wartime prohibition at an end and the great growth of constitutional prohibition.

Whisky Drinking Orgy Seen.

As the first step in this campaign, Representative Charles H. Randall, California prohibition party man, planned to introduce in the house an emergency peace measure to prohibit removal from bond or transportation in interstate commerce of the 70,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits now stored, between the date of the president's proclamation and the date of constitutional prohibition.

The prohibitionists believe this plan will prevent a respite for the wets, because the stock of beer probably will be well exhausted by that time and few breweries will open up for a few months.

Unless some action of this kind is taken, Representative Randall says, "the country will be thrown into a whisky drinking orgy."

October to End Demobilization.

"When the president lifts the ban it will pour out a flood of 70,000,000 gallons of whisky now held in bond by the wartime prohibition act," said Mr. Randall. "That act does not relate to beer and wine alone, and he cannot discriminate."

"With a million men yet to demobilize, under no circumstances could his proclamation be issued before Oct. 10." The attorney general and not the war department will have to advise President Wilson when demobilization of the emergency forces has been completed, military experts said, when their opinion was sought as to the approximate date of rescinding of wartime prohibition.

125,000 Saloons to Close.

Wartime prohibition means:

The closing of 1,247 breweries (1917 figures).
Practical abandonment of 645 distilleries, already closed as a war measure.

Loss to the government of about $350,000,000 annually in internal revenue, and the loss of several hundred millions to municipalities for licenses.

Diversion of $2,000,000,000—the nation's liquor bill—to other purposes, with greatly increased sales of soft drinks and ice cream expected.

WOMAN'S REALM

KITCHEN INSPIRATION

By MARGARET ROHE
(Written for the United Press)

Said the Kitchen stove to the kitchen sink,
"Now what do you think of that;
"They have taken the oilcloth of the tubs,
"To make in a coat and hat!"
Said the kitchen sink to the kitchen stove,
"That's naught to what I'll tell you;
They've even taken the roller towel,
"To make in a dress or two."

New York, July 1.—Designers have delved into the four corners of the earth for their inspirations. From the Orient, they have snatched barbaric gorgeousness. From the outskirts of civilization they have brought the scant skirts of the Hot-tentots and other denizens of the torrid zone, who spurn nether garments almost as the modern Parisienne. We have had wild Western and Indian influences mingling with our dressing and peasant pleasures and Cossack costumes with Bolshevik trimmings from the Russian steppes. Spain and China have been combed for fashion-hints and now the poor desperate designers haven't a single new weird foreign fashion center to turn to.

That's probably why a couple of summers ago they were driven to the wall of their own domestic domiciles for inspiration and, having scaled it, landed in the bathroom, where they proceeded to evolve amazing frocks and turbans out of the terry-cloth bath towels and mats.

Now their fiendish ingenuity and sartorial sleuthing has taken them below stairs and in the culinary department they seek and find their newest confections.

Out of the ordinary oilcloth, like the kitchen tubs and tables have worn for years, the smartest and most swagger of motor coats and travel togs are made. Aside from their really attractive appearance, they have the double charm of being also practical and durable, and they shed both dust and moisture like perfect ducks.

Thanks possibly to the Bohemian studio dwellers of Greenwich Village, whose oilcloth splashes behind the one-burner gas pocket kitchen range just must match up with the rest of the studio color scheme, oilcloth now comes in many varied shades. Lovely Dutch blue, glowing orange, rich henna, coolish green and warmish rose now add themselves to the imitation wood or marble, patterned on a plain black or white oilcloth of our early kitchen memories. We have been used to the plain black or white sailor shape rain and sport hats, but in these new colorings the most coquettish and quaintly attractive closefitting motor bonnets and turbans are created to match up the swaggy oilcloth hats.

Two or more color combinations are used in the smartest of the oilcloth motor coat and hat models and, of course, there are also effective oilcloth bags to carry on the color scheme and on the arm.

As for the smart linen suits and dresses converted from the natural color linen of the roller towels, with their red and blue borders used effectively for trimming, the result simply wipes all other linen costumes off the sartorial map.

One of the most attractive models has short sleeves, finished with a band of the red and blue striped border. The stripes also run around the neck and straight down either side of the waist and the skirt, to simulate a panel, which on the waist is filled in with a little gilet of solid stripes, sewed together horizontally. Cunning square pockets outlined with the stripes show on the skirt and a parasol of the plain toweling, with a border of the stripes, completes the novel toilet. It seems only fitting to make one's toilet with a towel, after all.

This time, indeed, the designers seem to have done well to invade the backstairs' realms and drag roller towels and oilcloth, Cinderella-like, out of the kitchen to become right royal raiment, but the next question is, "Where do we go from here?"

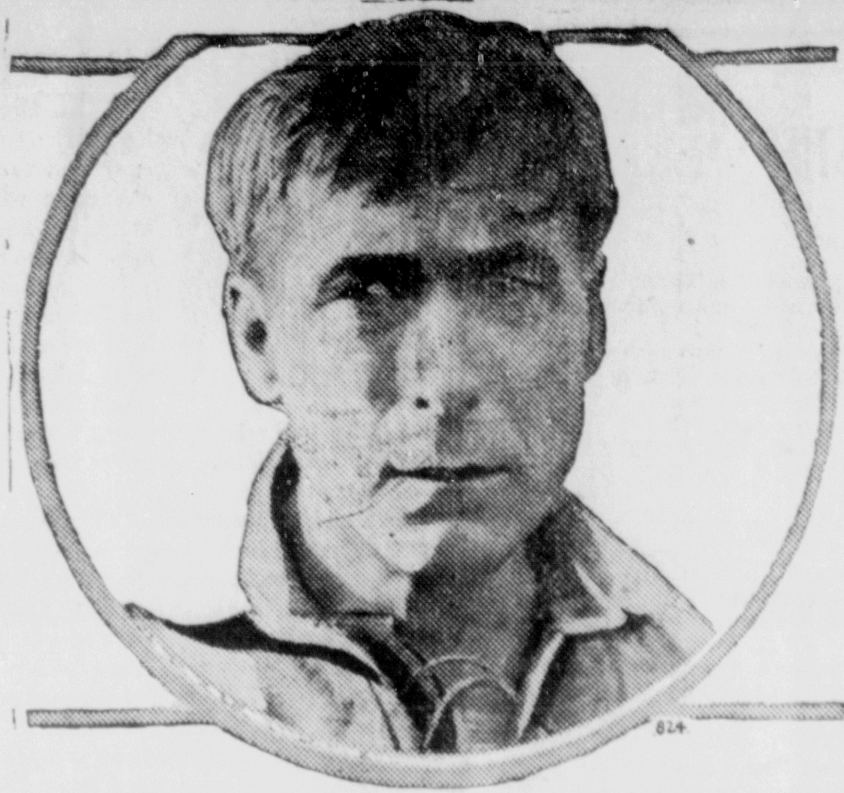

Huseby-Dybvik

A pretty church wedding was solemnized Saturday, June 28, at 3 o'clock in the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church when Miss Genevieve Adelaide Huseby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Huseby of Dyke-man, was married to Paul Edward Dybvik of Brainerd, Rev. A. Sorenson officiating.

The bride was gowned in white taffeta and georgette with a bridal veil decorated with lilies of the valley. She carried a bouquet of pink and white peonies.

The maids of honor were the Misses Mabel and Ida Huseby, cousins of the bride. Miss Mabel Huseby wore pink georgette and carried pink peonies. Miss Ida Huseby wore white organdy and carried pink peonies.

The church was beautifully decorated in white and green interspersed with pink roses. The best men were Conrad Huseby, a brother of the bride, and John Bye. Miss Ida Peterson presided at the organ as the young couple entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. Rev. A. Sorenson read the English Lutheran wedding ritual.

The bridegroom is a popular young man and is employed by the Northern Pacific railway company as a house and bridge carpenter. The bride is a charming young girl with a large circle of acquaintances.

A bounteous supper was served at the country home of the bride's parents to the guests. The house decorations were white and pink. Supper was served in a bower of evergreens. Assisting in serving were the Misses Ethel Toms and Mildred Wettes. Many beautiful gifts were received, silverware and cut glass predominating.

The honeymoon will be spent in Duluth and the Twin Cities and after July 7 the young couple will be at home to their many friends at 1424 Quince street, S. E. Brainerd.

YANKS AND FRENCH RIOT

100 Americans Hurt, 2 Dying, in Brest After Fight.

United States Naval Officer Alleged to Have Trampled on French Flag—Beaten Till Senseless.

Brest, July 1.—During rioting here two French civilians were killed and five American sailors and soldiers injured severely, and more than 100 wounded. Two of the American soldiers may die.

The streets of Brest were put under military control.

Hotels inhabited by Americans were besieged during the fight.

Drunken Officer Blamed.

The casualties resulted from an exchange of shots between American military and naval police and French sailors.

The trouble began, according to available accounts, when an American naval officer, who is said to have been drinking, tore down a French flag and trampled on it. Frenchmen, it is said, kicked and beat the officer until he was unconscious. Americans went to the aid of the naval officer and the fight became general.

American Hotel Attacked.

A mob of French civilians and soldiers and sailors attempted to rush the Hotel Moderne, where American officers were quartered. They burned a sentry box and threw stones at Americans in uniforms. The Americans, it is said, retaliated.

A company of marines with fixed bayonets were hurried to the scene and the Americans soon restored order. Admiral Henri Salaun, the French naval commander at Brest, ordered the marines to return to their barracks.

As the marines marched back to their quarters, it is declared, they were pursued by a mob throwing stones and bricks. The city is quiet now.

Trotsky Decides on Destruction—Evacuating Petrograd.

Helsingfors, July 1.—The evacuation of Petrograd by the bolsheviks is progressing hastily, according to recent decrees of the bolshevik government received here. War Minister Leon Trotsky has ordered that the fortress of Kronstadt be blown up before its surrender and that the bridges and railway station in Petrograd be destroyed before the last troops withdraw.

120 KILLED BY EARTHQUAKE

Many Villages Destroyed in Florence District of Italy, Report.

Rome, July 1.—One hundred and twenty persons are estimated to have been killed in and near Vicchio, the center of the earth movement in the Florence district, according to the Tempo. The town of Vicchio was reduced to a heap of ruins and a number of villages were destroyed.

The Colorado River.

The Colorado is one of the great rivers of North America. Formed in southern Utah by the confluence of the Green and Grand, it intersects the northwestern corner of Arizona and, becoming the eastern boundary of Nevada and California, flows southward until it reaches tidewater in the Gulf of California, Mexico. It drains a territory of 300,000 square miles and, traced back to the rise of its principal source, writes C. A. Higgins, is 2,000 miles long. At two points, the Needles and Yuma on the California boundary, it is crossed by a railroad. Elsewhere its course lies far from Caucasian settlements and far from the routes of common travel, in the heart of a vast region fenced on the one hand by arid plains and on the other by formidable mountains.

Courtesy Always Pays.

When you mingle courtesy with business principles you take out insurance on success. Ross Winans was only acting the part of a gentleman toward two foreigners whom he was showing through his shops in Baltimore. It later developed that they had been sent to America by the czar to select a man to introduce the manufacture of locomotives into Russia. While there were many larger and better equipped shops than his he was the man chosen and within a few years his annual income had reached the $100,000 mark. Good manners have a way of getting where brusqueness and force have difficulty. The grace and charm of Josephine did more to make France safe than the sword of Napoleon. POORLY KEPT CITY

Brainerd is a poorly kept city. This seems to be the opinion of visitors, after a drive about the streets. Yesterday a lady who was in the city for the first time for several years, remarked at the poorly kept condition of the streets and lawns and boulevards.

And she was right. A glance at the business streets shows an accumulation of sand and dirt and paper and garbage in the streets that would not be tolerated and one never sees in the business streets of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The streets here are not sprinkled even, and a slight wind causes the dust and dirt to fly to the annoyance of everyone and to the damage of stocks and goods in the stores.

And the residence streets are not much better kept. There the appearance of the street depends largely on the progressiveness and good citizenship of the individual. An ill-kept lawn looks as badly as an ill-kept person, and one or two poorly kept residence lots or boulevards on a street spoils the appearance of the entire street. A ride about the city shows offenders in every section. Every now and then between the nicely kept lawns one will find one lot not mowed and the weeds growing rank. This is disgraceful and should be remedied. At the park, too, the boulevards are not mowed, and the tall grass has an unkempt appearance. The public would appreciate it if the park board would see to it that the grass on the boulevard surrounding the park was kept neatly trimmed. If the board has not sufficient help or funds to do so, means should be devised to raise the necessary funds.

No one thing helps more to advertise a place as a live, progressive place, as a good place to live, than nicely kept streets and lawns, and it is to be hoped that the offenders in the city will arouse themselves and mend their ways, and keep their lawns nicely in the future.

THE FINEST CROP OF ALL

There have been clubs without number organized within the last two or three years to encourage boys and girls and their elders to raise better crops and produce more and better results for their labors. But in Los Angeles they have the best club of all. It is a group of old people who call themselves the "Century Club", and whose motto is, "Live to be a hundred and grow old gracefully."

Nobody can grow old gracefully who forecasts future worries, or who indulges in bitterness or vain regrets for past disappointments and failures. No one can grow old gracefully who hates growing old, and regards it as a personal grievance instead of a divine graduation.

The only way to accomplish this most desirable aim is to live each day courageously and kindly, to look forward to each tomorrow with serene confidence that it will bring something worth living for.

Growing old gracefully may begin right early; yet certain it is that youth lingers longest where age is least dreaded, while those who have for their ambition a beautiful old age will reap as their reward a harvest of golden years.—Exchange.

Those Yankee Vandals.

A huge electric cross formed part of a German holiday celebration in one of the bridgehead towns. On New Year's eve a private had "fraternized" to the extent of several schnapps and was walking toward his billet when he came upon a small group of Germans.

"Nob-end," said the buck genially. "Schoen," answered the admiring German, looking up at the sign.

The buck looked up. "Ja wohl." He straightened himself and charged forward. "She's erste classe. She's mine."

A friendly M. P. soothed a sputtering burgomaster and escorted the son-of-a-bitch to his bunk.—Sergeant L. E. Warthman, A. E. F., in Judge.

Americans Led in Aviation Feat.
 The first aviators to fly from or to the deck of a warship were Americans. Eugene Ely flew from the deck of the scout cruiser Birmingham on November 14, 1910, and on January 18, 1911, the same aviator in a flight made by him at San Francisco alighted on the deck of the battleship Pennsylvania. He then made a return flight from the deck of that warship. Other American aviators have since performed the same feat.

Stirring Incident.

"Did you find your first airplane flight exciting?"

"I certainly did," said the venturesome citizen. "At the last moment friend wife rushed up and tried to prevent me from going and when the propeller began to whirl she did a nose dive into the arms of her nearest relative."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

OLD PAPERS—5c BUNDLE

THE LUCKY STIFF

By Guy F. Lee.

Out on the Kansas prairies resides a friend of mine; He eats his self-raised onions and drinks his home made wine. He doesn't have to worry about July the first, And with the soaring living cost likewise he's not accused. He's just my age, but has eight kids to do his work for him, And so his labor problems include no specter's grim. He drive his twin-six motor, a surface car's my skiff— We started out in life the same, but he's the lucky stiff.

Some quarter of a century ago we went our ways; When he picks paths bousole I clotted caustic phrase. But long since I've concluded the hayseed appellation, I hung on him was simply adolescent aberration. I sought to scale Parnassus, he grabbed a walking plow; But time made me the plodder, while he's the climber now; And daddling in vast leisure, his meercaum pipe a-whiff, At me he chuckles—I'm the du; and he's the lucky stiff.

His barn is like a mansion, his mansion like a castle; His daughters gown as princes with bonnets all a-tassel; His sons will get a section each when they are twenty-one, And though they toil, they also spin, and have a heap of fun. We live to learn; I used to think the ruralite a jay, And ride him and deride him condescendingly, I'll say; But, wise with years, I hedge, a tad tell the Young Idea if He chooses farming as a job, wh' he's a lucky stiff.

BUSINESS MEN IN HISTORY

Interesting Question as to Whether It Is Better to Be Owner or Employee.

The main object of life is doubtless to get something out of it besides trouble, and so any critical comparison of rival methods of earning a living cannot fail to be interesting to all men. The only ones not affected are the carefree hobo flitting from place to place and the wise lad who early in life took the precaution to marry the lovely daughter of the capitalist.

Now, about the matter of running your own business or working for someone else on salary and commission. If we go into history the testimony is somewhat conflicting, writes J. R. Sprague in Sunset. Moses was a salaried man for the Pharaoh corporation and did very well for himself. On the other hand, our old friend Bismarck, also a salaried man, built up a wonderful business for his firm, but, as so often happens, was thrown out of a job when he got along in years, and the young fellow stepped in and took over the business.

Among those who went into business for themselves, Mark Antony did well and would probably have become head of the world's greatest corporation if he had not got into fast company and wasted his time on wine suppers, houseboat parties, and so on.

Alexander the Great, strictly a business man with no foolishness about him, in ten years built up such a tremendous organization that he fretted because there were no more good-sized towns where he could establish branch houses. Napoleon, who was in business for himself, prospered exceedingly for a number of years and probably would have died rich except for an unwise second marriage and the fact that he tried to spread out too much for his capital.

We all know the outcome of the business owned and managed by William Hohepsollern. Interested creditors would do well to compare a Dun or Bradstreet report on his affairs made in the spring of 1914 with his rating at the present time.

See Stockyards First.

Jim, his father's pride and mother's joy, had been "over there" for nearly two years. Finally word was received that he had reached an Eastern port and would soon be heading for camp to receive his little red discharge chevron.

Eagerly the home folks had waited to welcome back their hero and planned to make the day of his arrival here en route to camp a big one.

At four o'clock one afternoon Jim's voice came over the telephone to his dad: "Leaving in fifteen minutes for camp."

Unable to understand the short stop-over, the father inquired the time of his arrival in Chi.

"Well, now, it was this way," explained the warrior: "We got in at nine o'clock this morning, but I had a couple of pals with me who had never seen the stockyards, and I took them out to show them the place."—Chicago Tribune.

His Girl.

Dewey was six and it was his first year at school. He remained after school each evening, not because of failing to get ideas, for Dewey had plenty of ideas and room for more, but for sufficient reasons he had a special permit to stay. This gave him good opportunity to confide in Miss O., his teacher, about his "girl"—and every little brown curl around his neck nodded approval to all he said.

On this particular afternoon, after the others had gone and all was still, Dewey, with wistful, big brown eyes, said: "Miss O., you can't guess who my girl is now?" as if he were accustomed to changing. "It's Margaret," and as he turned his head this way and that the little brown curls always assenting, he waded deeper: "I never knew what love was till I saw Margaret."—Indianapolis News.

When The Day Is Over

When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago.

Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening, bearing-down pains, irregularities, pelvic inflammations, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root and Oregon grape root. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphine are injurious, and so he has always kept them out of his remedies. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it, in liquid or tablet form.

Pigeons in Warfare.

The use of pigeons, like many other devices employed in the world war, was a reversion to old practice. Before the invention of the telegraph, in the early part of last century, flying pigeons were used extensively for the conveyance of intelligence to the newspapers or for financial dealings. When Paris was besieged in the Franco-Prussian war there were a few homing pigeons in the city. These were sent out by balloon and conveyed to Tours, then the seat of the French government and the headquarters of the pigeon post. Letters to Paris were received even at the general post office in London. Each was to consist of not more than twenty words, including the address and signature, and was to relate solely to private affairs, without reference to the war or to politics. At Tours the letters were micrographed on thin films of celluloid, so light that as many as 30,000 messages could be carried by a single pigeon.

JNO. BARLEYCORN'S FUNERAL ON JUNE 30

Demise at Little Falls Largely Attended, Bottled Beer Sales Were Heavy Ones

BUT ONE ACCIDENT REPORTED

Today Water Looks Good to Many—Brainerd's New $300,000 Water Supply Comes in Handy

John Barleycorn's demise at Little Falls Monday night was largely attended and a visitor there saw people from many neighboring sections. Very early all the bottled beer was sold in the main part of town, and the west side offered the only refuge for that article. Draft beer was on tap to the finish, although it was reported near beer was served in some place near closing time when judges had their sense of taste out of kilter. On the west side bottled beer reached a price of 40 cents a bottle, pints or quarts. There were some intent on loading up like a camel and carrying enough in their skins to tide them over a week. Others carried bottled goods to the outskirts and drank it there. Trucks loaded with case goods were making pilgrimages out of town.

In spite of the assault of the thirty ones at Little Falls, the wet goods stood their ground with the exception of bottled beer. Little Falls was requisitioned for a big attack, but the consensus of opinion is that in spite of all efforts, the country about the town was unable to drink it dry.

But one accident was reported along the route. A fiver lost a wheel which was quickly attached when another was secured from town.

Today water looks good to many. The thirty ones in Brainerd will soon be served by a fresh water supply costing $300,000 secured from sparkling wells. There is also the Mississippi river and the 10,000 lakes to fall back on. Many have also educated their palates to an appreciation of near beer and other soft drinks.

Well stocked cellars may carry their owners for a period, but the time will eventually come when the drinker will face empties and will have to adjust his internal department to the inevitable and drink things which will fill his stomach and not go to his head.

PUMP UP TIRES

Should be up to Pressure When Jacked Up, Also Kept to Stand-ard in Hot Weather

It is customary among automobilists when they pump air into a wheel which is jacked up, not to pump up to the required pressure, but to allow a few pounds for the weight which will come on the tire when the jack is removed.

This is bad practice, says an expert from the United States Tire company's laboratories, for careful experiments show that the weight of the car on the tire does not add even a fraction of a pound to the air pressure inside a tire. Consequently, the United States Tire company advises motorists to inflate their tires to the recommended pressure, whether the wheel is jacked up or not.

While on the subject of inflation, motorists should again be warned that the notion which has gained wide belief among automobilists that the heat of a summer day expands the air inside a tire to such an extent that the tires do not need to be blown up to the same point as in winter, is an utter fallacy.

Motorists would do well in hot weather to test the air pressure in their tires every few days to see that the leakage of air has not reduced the pressure to the point where the tire will suffer harm.

CONDEMNATION CASE ON TRIAL

Appraisers Appointed by Judge C. W. Stanton Hear Evidence on Lands

CONDEMNED FOR WATERWORKS

Thomas Beare and F. H. Gibbs Testify as to Value of Beare Lands for Market Gardening

Appraisers appointed by Judge C. W. Stanton to appraise the value of lands condemned by the city for its waterworks project, met in the court house and heard testimony. G. S. McCulloch of Oak Lawn township is chairman, J. J. Tucker of Fort Ripley is clerk and the third member is James Ingram of Pequot. The city is represented by City Attorney D. H. Fullerton and Special Attorney W. F. Wieland. Thomas Beare of Ironton and W. H. Crowell of Brainerd represent Attorney Ryan appears for the Johnston Land Co. of St. Paul.

Mr. Beare's interests represent 25 acres, the Johnston Land Co. 30 acres and George P. Benz & Son of St. Paul five acres. Thomas Beare testified as to the value of his land for market gardening. He has built up the land to raise a superior article of cabbages and other vegetables. T. H. Gibbs of St. Paul, forty years an expert gardener, testified to the value of the land for market gardening purposes.

GOOD ROADS ARE GOOD GAS SAVERS

"The most important single factor toward the greater expansion of the motor industry is the building of new main trunk line roads, as well as resurfacing and maintaining of the existing portions of the systems which have been laid out," says S. R. Swiss, advertising manager of the Republic Motor Truck company.

"I have just learned of a test that was made in Ohio recently to determine the saving in gasoline from running a motor truck over a good road. It is mighty interesting to me and probably will be to most owners of motor trucks everywhere.

"Five new army standard 'A' trucks were used for trial. They were sent over seven different types of road surface on practically level ground.

"The test results showed an average of 5.78 miles per gallon over a dirt road in good condition, 7.19 over fair gravel, 9.29 over good gravel, about the same over fair bituminous macadam and good brick roads, 11.44 over extra smooth brick and 11.78 over good concrete.

"Here is a gain of over six miles per gallon between the best and the worst types of road with unloaded trucks. The trucks loaded showed that the poor road took seven times as much gasoline per mile as the good one."

INVESTURE OF FATHER LYNCH

Duluth City and Range Clergy Attend Solemn Ceremony When Priest Becomes Monsignor

REV. J. J. O'MAHONEY SPOKE

Solemn High Mass Celebrated, Monsignor Lynch at One Time was Priest at Brainerd (Duluth News Tribune)

The most impressive and important event of the year in Duluth Catholic circles took place Sunday when Rev. Daniel W. Lynch was invested as monsignor of the church and a member of the papal household. The church was beautifully decorated and the attendance was estimated at 2,000.

Before the celebration of the mass, the procession was formed in the rectory and proceeded through the church from the rear. The altar boys led and were followed by the clergy, according to rank. Father Lynch came last, wearing the black cassock and white surplice of the priest.

After replacing the black cassock for one of deep purple with a wide sash he advanced to the foot of the throne, upon which Bishop John T. McNicholas was seated. The bishop presented him with the mantelletta, the insignia of the membership in the papal household, and also with the rochet, which is similar to the surplice.

Solemn High Mass
Rev. H. A. Floyd of Morgan Park read the papal letters from Pope Benedict XV in Latin and in English. Solemn high mass was then celebrated. Rev. D. V. Patt of Eveleth was the celebrant of the mass, Rev. J. J. O'Mahoney of Brainerd was deacon of the mass and Rev. James Hogan of Hibbing was the sub-deacon. The masters of the ceremony of the mass were Rev. P. H. Kiley of the Sacred Heart cathedral and Rev. P. O'Brien of Duluth were the masters of ceremony.

After the first gospel of the mass Bishop McNicholas gave the sermon. He spoke of the rejoicing at the signing of the peace treaty and on the divine mission of the priesthood.

Speakers at Reception.
A reception at St. James' hall was given last night in honor of the newly invested monsignor. Among the speakers were Bishop McNicholas, Rev. James Hogan of Hibbing, and Bishop James Trobec. The response to the bishop's address was given by Monignor Lynch.

The clergymen at the services yesterday included Bishop John T. McNicholas, Monsignor J. T. Buh, Rev. P. J. Kiley, Rev. O'Brien, Rev. Cornelius Dwyer, Rev. H. A. Floyd, Rev. D. Guillelte, Rev. William, Rev. T. Donaghue of Duluth, Rev. J. J. O'Mahoney of Brainerd, Rev. D. V. Patt of Eveleth, Rev. J. Gordon of the Indian reservation at Odanah, Wis., Rev. C. Gamache of Nashauk, Rev. CROP REPORT ON CROW WING COUNTY

Seven Days Ending June 30 Proved Beneficial to all Grains, Rye and Barley Heading

CORN SAFE FROM CUTWORMS

Crop Outlook Indicates a Banner Year for the Farmers of Crow Wing County
By E. G. ROTH
(County Agricultural Agent)

The last seven days in June proved beneficial to all the grains. The cool days of the latter part of the week afforded opportunity for the filling of the grain now in head, chiefly rye and barley.

The corn has outgrown the cutworm danger and is, in many fields, knee high. Cultivation, to keep ahead of the weeds, is in steady progress and taking up most of the farmers' time.

The Colorado potato beetle has become a serious pest on the potatoes, but is, in most cases, kept under control by the prompt use of arsenate of lead or Paris Green. The potato crop looks good and several fields are already in the blossoming stage.

Clover and alfalfa has been cut for hay this week commencing the haying season. The dry weather of the preceding two years hindered a catch in clover, yet some good fields are found in the county. The lowland hay meadows are still soft from the season's rains.

The crop outlook, with the exception of some farms where the large amount of rain did not have ample drainage, indicates a banner year for the farmers of Crow Wing county.

it isn't a Victrola

You can readily identify the Victrola by the famous Victor trademark, "His Master's Voice." It is not a Victrola without the Victor dog. This trademark is on every Victrola. It guarantees the quality and protects you from inferior substitutes.

The word "Victrola" is also a registered trademark of the Victor Talking Machine Company. It is derived from the word "Victor" and designates the products of the Victor Company only.

As applied to sound-reproducing instruments, "Victrola" refers only to the instruments made by the Victor Company—the choice of the world's greatest artists.

Willard 248 Pounds, Dempsey 201, If Our Photographer Is Truthful

These pictures give a very accurate idea of how Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey look, with their championship fight at Toledo only a few days off. The photographer does not state whether Jess was doing the old trick of holding in his "tummy" but he seems to have taken off quite a lot of fat. He (the photographer) says, however, that the scales registered 248 pounds. Both used the same type of scales and the difference in their height can be seen at once. Again the voracious photographer states that the beam tipped at 178 when Dempsey stepped upon them, but that Dempsey was fussing with the mechanism and that his weight at the time the photograph was taken was about 201.

"POKER FACE" HAS ITS USE

Ability to Hide Emotion Will Frequently be Found of Value in Game of Life.

Princeton is about to send 116 graduates out into the world. Some of them are whimsical young fellows, as would appear by the way they filled out questionnaires which asked them, among other things, what of most value had been received by them in their college course. One reflective senior avowed unblushingly that it was "his allowance." For others, "checks," "a poker face," "the art of bluffing," "learning how to loaf scientifically," were their acquisitions of highest worth.

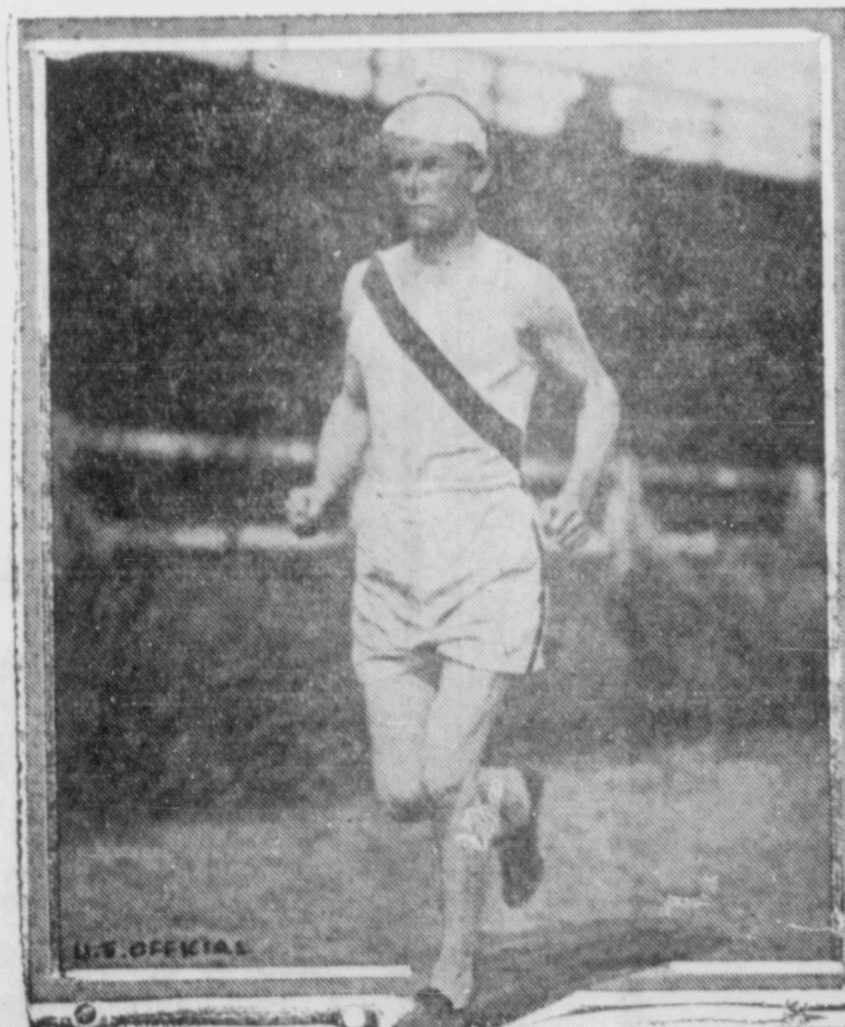

The value of no one of these can be gained, for most lives bring emergencies when any one of them may be of the highest use. There are some who may be skeptical of the advantages of the "poker face." Yet who can doubt the value on occasion of a poised, impassive, imperturbable countenance which gives no slightest hint of the hopes and fears it masks.

A physiognomy under complete control is almost essential to a diplomat, and this ability to hide emotions behind a changeless exterior goes far to give the Japanese envoys the reputation of being the best poised statesmen. Countenances which light up with emotion are more attractive. Wooden faces are never winning in the usual acceptance of the word. But they are the winning faces in two at least of the exciting games of life, diplomacy and poker.—Rochester Post Express.

A Stranger in the Woods.

Years ago, when quite a youth, I was rambling in the woods one Sunday with my brothers, gathering black birch, wintergreens, etc., when, as we reclined upon the ground, gazing vaguely up into the trees, I caught sight of a bird that paused a moment on a branch above me, the like of which I had never before seen or heard of. It was probably the blue yellow-backed warbler, as I have since found this to be a common bird in those woods; but to my young fancy it seemed like some fairy bird, so curiously marked was it, and so new and unexpected. It seemed like an integral part of the green beech woods. I saw it a moment as the flickering leaves parted, noted the white spot in its wing, and it was gone. How the thought of it eluded me afterward! It was a revelation. It was the first intimation I had had that the woods we knew so well held birds that we knew not at all.—John Burroughs.

American Marathon Winner Training for Big Inter-Allied Soldier Meet in France

Unless hiking during the war put Sergeant William J. Kennedy's legs out of action, he is expected to do great things during the big Inter-Allied athletic meet for men who fought in the world war. The meet is now being held at the Pershing Stadium, near Paris. Kennedy, who was in an engineer regiment, is a building contractor when he is at home at Port Chester, N. Y. In 1913 he won nearly every long distance race worth while, including the Boston Marathon, the Chicago Olympic, the St. Louis Marathon and Illinois Athletic Club modified Marathon. He is shown here training on the track before the stadium was completed.

THE car with two or three or four different brands of tires reflects on the owner's ability to buy judiciously.

People who try Firestone Gray Sidewall Tires are no longer in the ranks of the tire doubters.

They know that at least one make of tires has more miles of wear. They know that the name Firestone carries assurance and that the tires are uniformly good.
